

Petroleum Stockpiling in the 21st Century

Global Petroleum Emergency Preparedness in the 21st Century

Mr. Kenji Kobayashi

Director, Office of Oil Markets and Emergency Preparedness International Energy Agency

Table of Contents

- A. *The key characteristics of near-term risks in the oil market in the 21st century
- B. *The global situation of emergency preparedness
- C. *Co-operation between the IEA and non-IEA countries, in the areas of Strategic Petroleum Stockpiling

OPEC Spare Production Capacity *

* IEA definition: available in 30 days and sustainable for 90 days

Expected Share of Stocks in China and India in total OECD Strategic Stocks

China + India = 19mt (140 mil. barrels)

=> Approximately 9% of OECD strategic stocks (206 mt)

IEA's Collaboration with non-IEA Countries

- Oil security/stock conferences & site visits
 - ✓ China in 2001 and 2002
 - ✓ Southeast Europe in 2002
 - ✓ IEA Seminar on Oil Stocks in Berlin 2003
 - ✓ ASEAN/ASCOPE in 2003 and 2004
 - ✓ India in 2004
- Simulation exercise (2002, 2004)
- Future co-operation with non-IEA countries in the area of emergency preparedness