

The share of renewables in total electricity production varies widely amongst IEA member countries - ranging from 1% to 99%, with the average in 2008 being 16%.

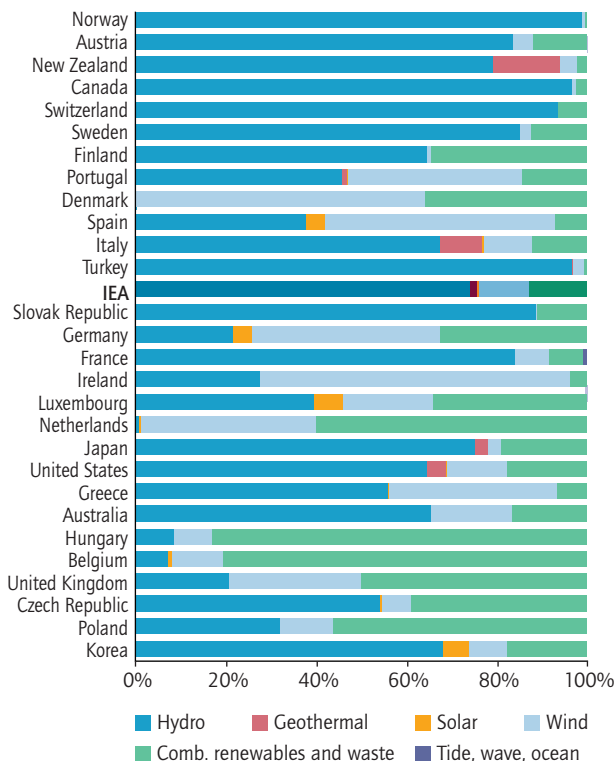

Share of renewables in electricity production

2007 world overview

Share of electricity production by renewable energy source in 2008

Share of renewables in IEA electricity production from 1990 to 2008

